The Red Bandanna of Ohio Receives an Ovation

And Bears His Honors with Becoming Dignity.

Some Probability that He Will Yet be First Choice.

McDonald, of Indiana, is Still in Good Faith

And Will Get Either First or Second Place.

Cleveland Not in as Good Trim as His Friends Could Wish

Still He Has a Fighting Chance Left Him.

Bayard's Hopes Lie in the Loyalty of the South.

While Butler, Slocum, and Flower are About Forgotten.

Committee on Resolutions Making Decidedly Slow Work.

The Nominations Begin by the Presentation of Bayard by Delaware, Followed by the Presentation of McDonald by Hendricks, of Indiana, Both of Whose Names are Loudly Applauded—Judge Thurman Nominated by John Breckinridge, of California, Amid Much Enthusiasm—Dissemination of Candidates.

The Prelude.
CHICAGO, July 10.—Atmospherically, the second day of the Democratic National Convention opens no better than the first. Rain has been falling since an early hour this morning, the sky is still of a leaden hue, and the lake, on the edge of which the Convention Hall is situated, is shrouded in a London fog. Still, the ardor of the Democratic heart is neither chilled nor dampened. The crowd around the hotels are as large and as noisy as though nature were in her most pleasant mood, and at this writing, half an hour before the time for reassembling the spectators' galleries are packed and many of the delegates are in their seats. It is without doubt to be a day of hard work, of tinkering and dickering, and the probabilities are that before night is fallen, even if a ballot is as far off as now, the leader of the Democratic party in the coming campaign will virtually have been decided upon. Since 8 o'clock it has been claimed that Thurman's stock has visibly improved and that the chances of a strike of lightning reaching "The Red Bandanna" are more favorable than ever. The Cleveland men, however, are as confident as ever.

The committee on Resolutions and Credentials met at 7 a. m. and at this hour (10:50 a. m.) still in session.

Getting Together.
11 a. m.—Chairman Hubbard is not a moment behind. The hands of the clock have barely reached the hour and he is at his post calmly surveying the assemblage. A number of delegations have yet to arrive. That of Pennsylvania enters at 11 o'clock behind the American Club Band and the members salute ex-Speaker Hendrick who has just ascended the stage. The audience catches his eye and cheers him warmly.

John Kelly, arm in arm with Senator Grady, makes his appearance, but, although there is a great craning of necks, an attempt to get up a "three times three" proves a failure.

Chairman Hubbard, on the other hand, the United Press table that the Committee on Credentials is ready to report, but that he has no word from that on resolutions.

This is sufficient, however, to enable the proceedings to have a start.

COL. W. F. VILAS
The Permanent Chairman is an able lawyer of Wisconsin, well-known throughout the State, and said to be one of the best stump-speakers in that country. He is aged about 50, and well preserved for his years, of fine carriage and commanding presence. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion, and noted for his gallantry.

The President named a distinguished committee, including Smith Weed and Hendricks, to escort Mr. Vilas to the chair. His reception in the nature of a triumphal ovation long continued, the Chair ordering the band to give a patriotic air.

VILAS'S SPEECH.
Mr. Vilas said: "Gentlemen, I know well of national airs and is about through with "America" when Thurman makes his appearance. Instantly the immense throng is on its feet and cheer after cheer rent the air. It is the most striking and spontaneous demonstration since the Convention opened. Time and again the demonstration is repeated with enthusiasm. Hendricks, Voorhees, Senator Jones, and many others crowd around and grasp his hand. Then there is an interval of confusion during which the Massachusetts delegation enters unperceived. General Butler has not yet arrived.

Convention in Detail.
At 11:30 Chairman Hubbard rapped for order and introduced the Right Rev. W. S. McLaren, D. D., Bishop of Chicago.

The Chairman requests the audience to rise as the venerable gentleman arises and repeats

THE LORD'S PRAYER.
It is a striking scene. Thirteen thousand people on their feet with heads bowed in reverence, while in low and impressive tones the Bishop follows by invoking the blessing of God upon the proceedings and prays for the blessings of the almighty to rest upon the Convention and upon the names of the candidates. The prayer is a printed one, evidently prepared for the occasion, and concludes with the benediction.

THE PRAYER.
At 11:30 the Convention was again called to order and Jenkins, of Wisconsin, reported that the Committee on Resolutions would not be able to report until to-morrow, and asked that they be permitted to sit during the Convention. Agreed to.

Chambers, of Massachusetts, moves that the Committee on Resolutions be directed to give a hearing to the Committee of Irish National League on the question of ownership of land by aliens.

Harrington, of Missouri, moves for a resolution denouncing corrupt labor.

Powers, of Michigan, submits a resolution that it is the sense of the Convention that the action of the Convention on Grady's resolution was only intended to apply to States which instructed their delegates to vote as a unit. All the above and several more were referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

The report of the Credentials Committee was next made. The committee reported in the case of the contested Twelfth District of Massachusetts in favor of Messrs. Kelley, McLean, Ferry and Blodch as entitled to seats. The committee also reported in favor of annulling delegates from Territories to seats and votes in the Convention.

Randolph offered an amendment that the delegates from the Territories be not entitled to vote.

McArthur, of Oregon, made a short spirited appeal for the right of Territorial delegates to give a vote to the wishes of their constituents. The amendment was voted down and the report of the committee adopted.

This adds necessary votes in the Convention and makes it sufficient for the successful candidate to receive.

Randolph Smith, of Utah, submitted a resolution against polygamy. Cheers and a referendum.

Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, offered a resolution empowering the National Committee to go outside its own members if it sees fit in the selection of a chairman. Referred.

Mr. Jolly, of New York, submits a resolution for the unqualified revision of the tariff in the interest of the people against monopolies. Referred.

12:15—Over half an hour was occupied by the presentation of various resolutions intended as thanks in the platform. All were referred.

A resolution was offered to make the nomination for President at 3 o'clock this afternoon. There was a close vote but it was lost.

Resolutions were also offered and referred by Boyd, of Nebraska, favoring a reduction of the tariff.

By Miller, of Ohio, making the Presidential term six years.

By Perkins, of Connecticut, pledging fidelity to the Constitution.

By Higgins, of Nebraska, limiting home-stead grants to 160 acres each.

By Shelby, of Kentucky, that the roll be called at 3 p. m. to-day for nominations for President. Lost.

By Hillyer, of Georgia, favoring a tariff reform and a reduction to a sum only necessary for the support of the Government.

PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.
The Committee on Permanent Organization reported Colonel W. F. Vilas, of Wisconsin, and Vice President from every State. Vilas name was greeted with prolonged cheering.

that this mark of your favor is no personal compliment, but a recognition of the young Democracy of the Northwest (applause), and I claim it is a justly due tribute to their lofty and patriotic struggle against an unnumbered foe, and I hail it as a promise of coming triumphs. (Applause.) But I am proud and honored to be selected as their representative, and I tender hearty thanks for the honor. No pledge is required of my people's devotion, if it has been, so will it abide, pure, unselfish, resolute and unflinching, till its great object is secured, the restoration of upright and constitutional government. (Applause.)

"You are assembled to consider a great cause and pronounce momentous judgment. Your hand is on the helm of a mighty and free nation. It is in your power to lay its course in felicity for years, freighted with its vast humanity. The importance and value of its decision lies not in mere party victory, or the spoils of office. The hour is pregnant with mighty possibilities of good to men. Constitutional liberty, stilled and unjust, calls aloud for resurrection to purity and power. (Applause.) An assemblage of

LICENTIOUS POLITICIANS.
Recently filled this hall, too well manufactured to be the product of infant industry. (Laughter.) They insidiously claim the consummation of power, and have used a variety of crafty promises, to redress disorders they have themselves communicated to the body politic. (Applause.) They offer the solution as a cure for the disease. They tender nothing adequate to the needs of a country rejoicing in the hope of renewed growth and peace and a noble prosperity. They offer the inspiration of national misfortune to a people demanding deliverance from corruption. To an earnest and pure youth they offer a corrupt party machinery. To the clamorous artisan they cry 'Be your masters' villain and ye shall have bread.' (Applause.) 'Soap' is their inspiration and ammunition. The dimes of this hour rise far above partisanship. (Applause.) How shall we most surely rescue the Republic? It is in your power to lay its course in felicity for years, freighted with its vast humanity. The importance and value of its decision lies not in mere party victory, or the spoils of office. The hour is pregnant with mighty possibilities of good to men. Mr. Vilas concluded with a passionate appeal for devotion to the principles of the Democratic party.

Mr. Mumford, of Louisiana, Mr. Larned, of California, and others submitted resolutions which were referred without reading.

Mr. Souder, of Pennsylvania, offers a resolution to call the roll of States for nominations. A point of order was made, but the chair overrules the point of order that the resolution is out of order.

General Clause, of California, declares that they can't nominate until they have a platform.

After further discussion the call of States was ordered on the proposition of Mr. Souder that nominations be made at once.

The following is the vote on a motion to say on the table the resolution to proceed with immediate nominations:

Alabama, ye 1; ny 10.
Arkansas, ye 15; ny 20.
California, ye 16.
Colorado, ye 6.
Connecticut, ny 12.
Delaware, ye 6.
Florida, ny 8.
Georgia, ye 8; ny 16.

Massachusetts, ye 6; ny 13.
Michigan, ny 20.
Minnesota, ny 14.
Mississippi, ye 11; ny 7.
Missouri, ye 7; ny 25.
Nebraska, ye 1; ny 8.
Nevada, ny 6.
New Hampshire, ny 8.
New Jersey, ye 14; ny 4.
New York, ny 72.
Great cheering. The vote of New York. Great cheering. Grady is hissed down and the Chair refuses his chance. There is a great cheering. A dozen delegates on their feet at once. Immense hissing. Gal. series packed with Grady men, who are clamoring for his nomination (is now resumed).

North Carolina, ny 22.
Ohio, ye 19; ny 24.
Oregon, ye 15; ny 1.
Pennsylvania, ye 14; ny 35.
Rhode Island, ny 1; ny 7.

Arizona, ny 2.
District of Columbia, ny 2.
Idaho, ny 2.
Montana, ny 2.
New Mexico, ny 2.
Utah, ny 2.
Washington Territory, ny 2.

1:40 p. m.—Grady was recognized to state his reasons for challenging the vote of New York. He says the vote is 19 ye and 49 nay, with four lost votes.

Mr. Manning repeats that the vote is 72 ye. The Chair rules that the challenge is not valid. The Chair decides that New York must vote as a unit. (Great applause.)

Kentucky changes her vote to ye 24; ny 2.
California changes to ye 15; ny 1.
Kansas changes to ye 15; ny 13.
Wisconsin changes to ye 20; ny 20, making the connected total vote 803, divided as follows: Ye 281; ny 521.

The motion to lay on the table is consequently lost. The question now is on proceeding with an immediate nomination.

Mr. Clarke, of California, moves that no ballot be taken until a platform is adopted.

A call of States for nominations ordered by a large viva voce vote.

Mr. Harrison moves to adjourn till 7 p. m. and demands the call of the States.

Mr. Clarke, of California, moves to adjourn until to-morrow morning. Lost.

1:55 p. m.—There is a pandemonium again. Twenty delegates on their feet trying to move an adjournment and the Chairman is powerless to obtain order.

1:56 p. m.—Mumford's resolution to adjourn till 8 p. m. is also lost.

A motion was then made to adjourn until 11 a. m., but was defeated.

1:59 p. m.—Fillibuster of now proceeding.

2 p. m.—Leon Abbott, of New Jersey, demands order. The galleries have complete control of the Convention and the excitement runs high.

2:03 p. m.—A call of the States for the nomination of candidates is now proceeding.

2:04 p. m.—The greatest uproar prevails in the Convention as Delaware is called. The people are so much bent themselves with excitement, and the confusion and great good nature exceeds anything witnessed during the Republican Convention last month.

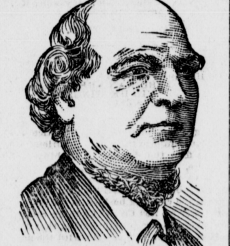

Attorney General G. T. Gray, of Delaware, at 2:05 p. m., arises to nominate Thomas F. Bayard. (Cheers.)

THOMAS F. BAYARD.

2:07 p. m.—Gray pictures the kind of a candidate that is required by the Democratic party to bring victory in November, and denounces the career of the Republican party and characterizes Blaine and his platform as a fitting culmination of the aims of that party.

It flung defiance into the face of the American people and it was the sign of the decadence of a great party. The Democratic party of the country demands a standard bearer in a man who has been tried in the balance and never found wanting. It demands a statesman of wisdom and experience. They offer the inspiration of national misfortune to a people demanding deliverance from corruption. To an earnest and pure youth they offer a corrupt party machinery. To the clamorous artisan they cry 'Be your masters' villain and ye shall have bread.' (Applause.) 'Soap' is their inspiration and ammunition. The dimes of this hour rise far above partisanship. (Applause.) How shall we most surely rescue the Republic? It is in your power to lay its course in felicity for years, freighted with its vast humanity. The importance and value of its decision lies not in mere party victory, or the spoils of office. The hour is pregnant with mighty possibilities of good to men. Constitutional liberty, stilled and unjust, calls aloud for resurrection to purity and power. (Applause.) An assemblage of

JOSEPH E. McDONALD.

2:25 p. m.—The call of States proceeds. Indiana is named amid great cheering as Hendricks nominated McDonald. The scene is inspiring. The whole Convention shouts itself wild. All the delegations are on their chairs. Cheers for Hendricks repeated again and again. The chair appeals for order, but the cheers are renewed again and again. Hendricks says as this is his first appearance as a delegate to a political convention he feels a delicacy and responsibility in the position. The nominee of this Convention is to be chosen President, and he will be the first inaugurated Democratic President for twenty years. He proceeded to read a set speech in which he arraigned the Republican party and reviewed its actions while in power.

JOHN G. CARLISLE.

McKenzie at 3:30 nominated J. G. Carlisle. 8:40 p. m.—The Convention refuses to adjourn, on motion made by Carter Harrison.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Before the Convention met this morning the feeling about the field corridors was that Tilden's heir had drawn nearer the goal. The supporters of Cleveland were in high spirits, and the faces of the opposition and their tones in conversation betokened ill-concealed anxiety, the fact that the combined opposition failed to carry its point against the Cleveland force had not been without its effect. It was clear that Cleveland had been strengthened, the field weakened, and Tammany humiliated.

Last night was one of work, scheme and combination. The Cleveland men took the lead. Though jubilant and confident, they relaxed no effort. The large corps of trained workers watched every corner and made every possible point. Men went out to every doubtful delegation. They labored with the great leverage of seeming victory in their hands, and claim their work here good results.

This morning the field appeared as badly scattered as ever before. Efforts were made at combination and concentration, but without result so far as could be discovered. The combination of Bayard and McDonald was earnestly advocated by friends of the former, but it was pronounced a weak suggestion. The two men did not seem to have the same sources—the South and the revenue reform element. Besides, when McDonald drops his aspirations for first place and seeks second, he knows of a more powerful yoke mate than Bayard. A proposition to make the ticket McDonald and Bayard is prevented by Bayard's unwillingness to take a second place.

Nobody seems to want anything to do with Butler and his name was not seriously considered.

Justice Field is without strength and the indications are his name will not be put forward at all.

Randall is out of the question in this connection.

Hooley is a natural tail to the Cleveland tide.

The most promising combination is McDonald and Slocum, but his weakness is Slocum's inability to deliver any vote. His Brooklyn friends necessarily abandoned him when they joined the Cleveland ranks. McDonald can get no more strength to give to Cleveland than Slocum. His Indiana friends are not "inside," though they have made great gains this summer.

For a time it looked as though Thurman had the best chance of defeating Cleveland as the one man upon whom the field could concentrate. He is everywhere admired and respected. He is a man of high character and of the highest integrity. His friends are not "inside," though they have made great gains this summer.

Governor Hooley is a candidate and will be presented by thirty-seven votes back of him.

There was renewed talk last night of McLean joining Thurman, in which event the ex-Speaker might present himself as a candidate. But the editor from Cincinnati assures his colleagues that he is for Hooley, and the Governor's managers express confidence in his fidelity. It was whispered about, but stoutly denied, that McLean realizes the strategic importance of his position and is tempted to make the jump to Thurman. But the boom received a set-back when twenty-seven Ohio delegates met in caucus and decided to support Cleveland. In the field of anti-Cleveland possibilities Thurman cut more of a figure last night and this morning, so far as the managers were concerned, than McDonald or Bayard. Even Cleveland's non-availability was lost sight of. Cincinnati was something of a storm center. John E. Thompson and other Thurman men worked hard to get up an "anything-to-beat-Cleveland" movement.

Clearly, Bayard had developed much greater strength than McDonald, and is the leader of the opposition. Nearly all his votes are from the South. The South has exhibited a tendency to concentrate on Bayard. There is a great anxiety to get another southern man for President. Among themselves the Thurman managers say Bayard cannot be nominated, but are constantly making appeals to his followers to stand firm. Their scheme is said to be to use Bayard to hold the South long enough to break Cleveland down while the Cleveland men would be the choice. Supporters of the New Yorker maintain that the conviction is spreading among the southerners that Bayard cannot be nominated, and the labors of the Cleveland corps are bearing fruit.

The extent to which Cleveland's vote is inflated by the vote on the unit rule practically has received a full share of consideration. Some delegates opposed to Cleveland voted to sustain the rule and voted versa, but the variations are believed to be about even.

Impartial estimates place the Governor's strength as follows:

Alabama, 2; Arkansas, 14; Colorado, 3; Connecticut, 12; Florida, 8; Georgia, 10; Illinois, 30; Iowa, 22; Kansas, 15; Kentucky, 2; Louisiana, 14; Maine, 13; Maryland, 10; Massachusetts, 5; Michigan, 10; Minnesota, 14; Missouri, 24; Nebraska, 8; New Hampshire, 8; New Jersey, 10; New York, 72; North Carolina, 14; Oregon, 6; Rhode Island, 8; South Carolina, 15; Tennessee, 5; Texas, 14; Vermont, 8; Virginia, 13; West Virginia, 9; Wisconsin, 17; total, 484.

Of the remaining 373 votes Bayard has Fay Sewell's Shame.

Louisville Post.
Fay Sewell has gone to the bad at St. Louis and has thereby confirmed the opinion formed of her at the time of her discovery on Lafayette street. After remaining two or three days at a boarding house in St. Louis, she sought the direction of a gilded palace of infamy, and immediately upon the discovery of the information betook herself to it. She was determined to enter upon the ruinous course, and all the efforts of the good people who interposed in her behalf were of no avail.

Gentlemen—There is some mistake in this gas bill.

Gas Collector—No, sir, the bill is all right. It is according to the meter.

Gentlemen—It's the furnace gas; I certainly burned more gas than that last month.

Gas Collector—Wh-wh-what's that, sir?
Gentlemen emphatically—I say I certainly burned more gas than that last month.

Gas Collector (turning pale and edging toward the door)—Very well, sir, very well. Don't get excited, sir; keep quiet; calm yourself. Everything will be made all right.

The collector then bounced down the stairs and shouted for help. Four policemen responded, and moving cautiously up the stairs they secured the maniac and got him safely to a lunatic asylum. But little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Where Blackburn Met His Baby.

Four days before I went to the front with my regiment we had a little girl baby. She is now grown and you always see her with me at any social gathering. Well, in our army the fun things came very rarely. When we got into line there was no great chance for a man to get home. I was the first to see a baby, and that was a few of us were one night going down the Mississippi on a river steamer. I had been sick and was returning to my command but pretty well broken up even then. As for money, we did not have any, and the night was so hot I laid down on the deck, my throat almost parched with thirst. Pretty soon a little girl came along with a big glass of lemonade. I tell you it looked good to me. I saw her, and she looked at me, and finally came up to my side. "You looked as if you wanted something to drink," she said, and offered me the glass. It wasn't the square thing to do, but I took it and handed it back to her empty. It was like nectar to me. Then I thanked the little creature and sent her away. Soon after just like every little child, she came back, leading her mother to see the poor soldier. By Jupiter, she was my wife. And the girl was the furthest from me I had seen as a baby but just born. You can imagine the re-union. They were with my regiment and happened to be going down the river. That was the only time during the four years' fighting that I saw my wife and baby, and under the most extraordinary circumstances what man would ever forget it?

Unshioned in Rosy Gums, enclosed in lips that part in smiles like the opening rosebud, the teeth gleam with dazzling whiteness if the charming possessors uses beautifying Sonodent, which cleanses and whitens the teeth, and abrades their enamel like mineral preparations designed for the same purpose.

This agreeably odorous and salutary article not only benefits the teeth and enhances the beauty of the mouth, but removes canker and remedies ulceration of the gums.

Lost Faith in Physicians.

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Seville's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, for all diseases of the blood, when they had been given over by their physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take this medicine for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is enclosed by leading professional men.

Papillon Cough Cure cured an infant only a few weeks old of whooping cough, after a consultation by physicians pronounced it beyond recovery. It stops the whoop and allows the breath to return. For sale by J. James Wood and J. C. Pecor & Co.

Messman's Patentized Beef Tonic the only preparation of beef containing all the nutritive elements of the blood-making, force generating and life sustaining properties, available for indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all forms of general debility. It is an infallible condition, whether the result of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork, or acute disease, particularly resulting from pulmonary complaints. Caswell, Hazard & Co., proprietors. Sold by druggists. m10d4w

Pure Cod Liver Oil, made from selected livers, on the sea shore, by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It is absolutely pure and sweet. Physicians have once taken it prefer it to all others. Physicians have decided it superior to any of the other oils in market. m10d4w

Chapped Hands, Face, Pimples, and rough skin, cured by using Juniper Tar soap made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. j10d4w1k

For Hypertension, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits, and General Debility in the various forms, also as a preventive against Fever, Ague, and other intermittent fevers, the "Ferro-phosphated Elixir" is the best. It is made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, it cures all forms of debility, and recovering from Fever or other sickness it has no equal. j10d4w1k about 130, McDonald 80, Randall 75, Thurman 40, Hoadly 30, Butler 30.

If Cleveland receives 425 votes on the first ballot, he will lack 112 of the necessary two-thirds. The two-thirds rule is not likely to be disturbed. Should the Cleveland managers manipulate the Committee on Rules so that the Convention could be led to adopt such rules as would permit a majority vote to abolish the two-thirds rule, they could probably find the majority to do it with. But it is believed they will not take any such dangerous course. The opposition here is in Cleveland's inability to get the two-thirds and they will not seek to disturb the rule.

"Mention," of the Herald, says: The opposition to Cleveland is in the same condition in most respects as was the opposition to Blaine Cleveland is the second choice of delegates who are first for other men, as was Blaine. McDonald and Hoadly are in the same Vice Presidential boat that Logan sailed in. The McDonald men view with alarm the growth of Hoadly and the possible rising of Thurman. The Indiana have never lost sight of second place and are still reaching for it, if nothing better can be found. Thurman's success would freeze them out. The party will not risk it all on Ohio and Indiana. Ohio's October vote is alone enough to overwhelm Thurman.

Hoadly does not seek first place, but does want second. Manning is playing Hoadly against McDonald. The latter will have to jump quick if he gets into the Cleveland camp ahead of the others.

SAMUEL J. RANDALL.
Randall has the Presidential fever in an aggravated form, but his managers are convinced he stands no chance. One of them, a Pennsylvania Congressman, says: "Randall fights the tariff, not the Presidency. He remains in the field only to secure vindication by absence of only from the tariff plank. He is a Tilden man, who, but for the tariff would have been where Cleveland is today. He will get out of Cleveland's way in due time. Two-thirds of Pennsylvania will go to the New York ticket."

Ex-Mayor Prince, of Boston, a member of the Tilden circle, has undermined Butler in Massachusetts. Butler cannot stand more than one ballot, when a good part of Massachusetts will join in the Tilden programme. Not more than two ballots are probable, possibly only one will be taken. At the end of the first changes will begin. No one need be surprised to see Ohio and Indiana run a race as to which can be the first to get there. All indications of the hour are that if Cleveland has 400 votes to begin with the necessary 135 more will be quickly drawn from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. The opposition lacks coherency of plan, and is without ability to concentrate, unless it be upon Thurman, and there is general fear of risking everything upon Ohio's October vote. The field may yet be sufficiently organized to fight for delay and hold more than a third from the favorite enough to break him down, but it is improbable. Two out of three of the influential workers are for Cleveland.

Individual self interest is a factor in many delegations, and the New York generals know where to find and how to satisfy it as they have satisfied Kings County and more counties and men besides. A prospective winner's popularity always grows rapidly. Back of all is the magic power of the pabbed Sage of Iroquois. This whisper has been heard from Maine to Oregon.

Committee on Resolutions
Was organized by the election of Malcolm Day, Protectionist, of Pennsylvania, as temporary chairman, after a vote of 19 to 19 for Converse and Morrison for permanent chairman. The vote upon the question of chairman is undoubtedly to be considered a test of the sentiment on the tariff question generally, and seems to indicate that the tariff plank will not be settled in committee, but will have to be carried into the Convention in two reports. The temper of the protection wing of the committee is such that they will not be likely to accept any such language as would be satisfactory to the free-trade element, and it is difficult to see how any compromise can be made.

The Committee on Resolutions and Credentials met at 7 a. m.
So far as any prestige attaches to the selection of the temporary presiding officer, it is logically to be counted on the protection side. After all the delegations had been heard Mr. Hewitt gave notice that he would submit his draft of a platform, together with one drafted by Mr. Marble, Mr. Gwynn, of Maryland, gave a similar notice.
At five minutes to midnight Ben. Butler beamed on the gathering, and said he, too, was willing to give them something which would be food for thought and a hook on which to hang discussion. He had assumed himself recently, he added, by preparing a platform which covered pretty nearly every issue before the country, and perhaps some others (laughter), and he was ready to present it right then and there or at 10 a. m., as the committee might desire. It chose to hear it at 10 o'clock.

Convention Notes.
One of the stories is that General Butler expects to run now as a third candidate, and that the result will be that the election of President will be thrown into the House of Representatives, in which case he hopes to be the choice.

Opinions differ as to the action likely to be taken by the Platform Committee, but it is agreed that the rival tariff factions will settle their differences in the Committee and render a report calculated to prevent discussion in the Convention, which might endanger the party's chances of success.

PARIS, July 10.—Dr. Koch, the head of the German Cholera Commission, says in his opinion cholera is not inhaled, but swallowed with water, fruits and vegetables. The microbes can be destroyed by cooking the food well and boiling the drinking water.
